

Objective

Detail-oriented postgraduate in Political Science seeking a dynamic role to apply and expand my skills in research, writing, and communication. With hands-on experience in content creation, political research, and campaign work—both online and offline—I am eager to contribute meaningfully to a professional team. I recently completed my Master's in Political Science and have held internships with political consultancies and communication teams.

Experience

- Aam Aadmi Party February, 2023 - May, 2023

Content Writing Internship

As a Content Writing Intern at AAP, I was responsible for crafting compelling and engaging social media posts for ongoing political campaigns, keeping in mind the party's voice and values. I also worked on writing and editing articles to be published across various platforms, including LinkedIn, to highlight key initiatives, policy announcements, and ground-level activities.

In my role as the Head Intern for the Content Writing Team, I took the lead in coordinating with fellow interns, assigning writing tasks, and ensuring that all content met our editorial standards. A major part of my responsibilities involved proofreading and refining articles for clarity, grammar, and tone before they were published. I also contributed to drafting job descriptions and internship calls to attract new talent to the team.

This internship helped me strengthen my skills in leadership, time management, and content strategy while working in a fast-paced, impact-driven environment.

- Polstrat Communications Private Limited May, 2023 - August, 2023

Research (Political Science) Intern

As a Political Science Research Intern at Polstrat Communications, I worked on gathering and analyzing political and policy-related data to support campaign strategies and client insights. My responsibilities included preparing research briefs, tracking developments in party politics, voter behavior, and public sentiment.

A key part of my role involved conducting interviews with local stakeholders, party workers, and community members to gather ground-level insights. These conversations added valuable depth to our research and helped shape on-the-ground narratives for political strategy teams.

I also contributed to internal reports, background notes, and presentations that supported decision-making for election campaigns and policy outreach. This experience sharpened my research, communication, and analytical skills, and gave me hands-on exposure to the intersection of politics, data, and public engagement.

-

Education

- University of Calcutta 2023-2025
MA in Political Science
- Scottish Church College 2019-2022
BA in Political Science
- Salt Lake School 2017-2019
ISC
- Auxilium Convent School 2005-2017
ICSE
-

Skills

- Content Writing

- Policy Research
- Political Communication
- Political Analysis
- Electoral Trend Analysis
- Fact-checking and Verification
- Issue-Based Research
- Strong Written & Verbal Communication
- MS Office Suite (Word, PowerPoint, Excel)
- Attention to Detail
- Political Sensitivity and Discretion
- Google Workspace

Language

- English
- Bengali
- Hindi