Hi Debanjan,

Thank you for giving us a heads up on your resignation, dated 15-Sep-2025. We are sure that there would have been some unav reasons which propelled this decision. It has really been a pleasure working with you, and we wish you all the very best in the futu

Would like to mention that your profile/position requires 60 days notice to help us prepare for a back-up, enable smooth knowled and to avoid any business impact. Hence, your last working day with us will be 13-Nov-2025, as discussed with you. However, on and post our internal discussion, your LWD has been revised as 17-Oct-2025 along with notice period recovery. Please conti perform to your usual high standards during your remaining time with the company. In case of further discussions required, we are away. We would be happy to assist you in this transition.
