

Self-Declaration of Freelance Work

To Whom It May Concern,

I, Neeraj Kumar, hereby declare that I worked as an Independent Crypto Freelancer and Self-Employed Professional, specializing in AML/KYC, Transaction Monitoring, and Project Management (including Crypto Project Management), from January 2019 to April 2024.

During this period, I collaborated with multiple clients in the cryptocurrency and blockchain sector, providing crypto freelance services such as end-to-end project management, operational coordination, and analytical support, which included:

- On-chain transaction analysis
- KYC verification and transaction monitoring for blockchain projects
- Reviewing blockchain transactions for suspicious activity
- Managing end-to-end project coordination and reporting for both crypto and non-crypto assignments
- Supervising regional and global community management teams, including setting engagement strategies and moderation standards
- Coordinating with project owners and marketing teams to align promotional activities and due diligence for crypto launchpads

These engagements were conducted under non-disclosure agreements (NDAs); therefore, I am unable to share specific client names or project details. However, I have attached the following documents for verification purposes:

- A bank statement (password: 6578000100033810) for one year, highlighting my credit entries (crypto freelance payments).
- My ITR acknowledgement copies, which further confirm my independent professional engagement during this period.

The same was communicated to the HR team during my interview process.

This declaration is made in good faith to confirm my freelance work experience and self-employment for background verification purposes.
