PROJECT
AI – Based Loan Approval Systems: Ethics & Accuracy	AI-based loan approval systems use machine learning to assess creditworthiness efficiently. They reduce bias but face challenges of transparency, fairness, and accuracy. Ethical concerns include discrimination, lack of explainability, and accountability. Balancing accuracy with ethics is vital for trust and responsible use in financial services. 2025
Understanding the savings and deposit mobilization strategies at branch level	This project studies how a bank branch mobilizes deposits through savings, RDs, and FDs. Conducted primary surveys (N = 60) and branch interviews to analyze deposit acquisition channels; recommended three actionable strategies projected to increase CASA by ~5% in pilot branches. 2025
